

CELEBRATE

HALLOWEEN

With Captioned
and Described Media

DCMP has partnered with CaptionMax to bring its members a new level of accessibility in educational media! Not only are these titles captioned AND described, they include a variety of innovative features, such as expanded description, enhanced captions, and talking menus.

Be sure to check out the following title just in time for Halloween!

The Body Detectives

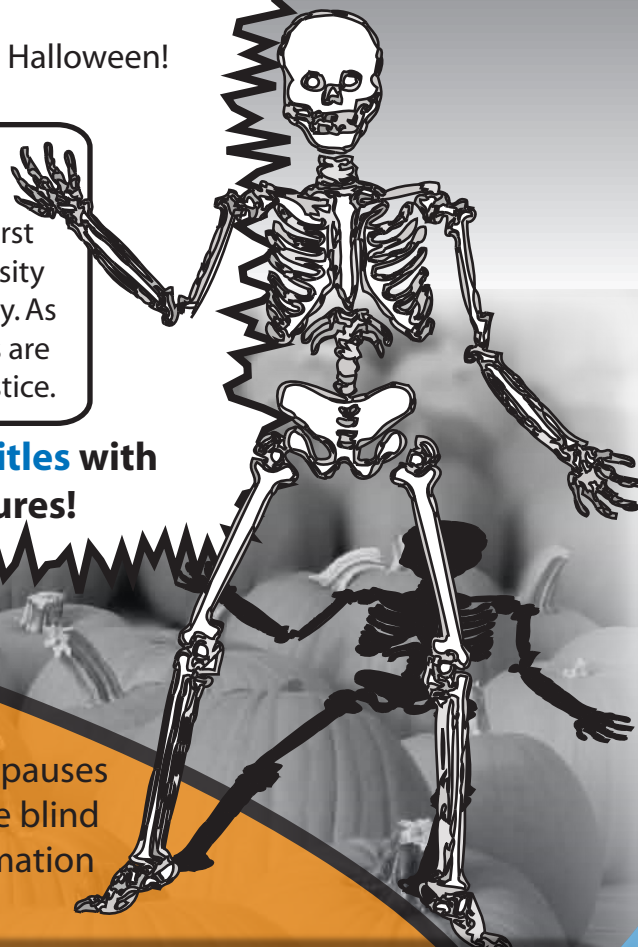

#13584-DVD – Grade Level: 9–12

At the Body Farm, the dead speak. Follow the world's first open-air crime lab with founder Bill Bass, of the University of Tennessee, for a close-up look at how cadavers decay. As proxies for murder victims, these decomposing bodies are studied in the name of science and for the cause of justice.

Visit the new dcmp.org to see our list of titles with these exciting new accessibility features!

What is description?

Description is the verbal depiction of key visual elements in media productions. A voicer provides description during natural pauses in a production's program audio. This way, viewers who are blind or visually impaired have equal access to important information on-screen.

Described and Captioned Media Program

Web: www.dcmp.org | E-Mail: info@dcmp.org

Phone: 800.237.6213 | TTY: 800.237.6819

Fax: 800.538.5636