

AN ACCESSIBLE LOOK AT ★ THE AMERICAN ★ PRESIDENCY
★ PRESENTED BY THE DCMP ★

A complete listing of Presidency-related DCMP titles is available on our website.

CLICK
HERE

W

With the annual observance of Presidents Day approaching, parents and teachers have a unique opportunity to capture their students' interests in a profession that evokes almost universal fascination: the Presidency of the United States. The DCMP has a wide assortment of accessible media titles to aid in planning for your Presidency-related lessons and activities. Here are a few suggestions to get you started on your search:

THE WHITE HOUSE

What is the White House? How did it get its name? What happens there? Learn more about the history and many features of the home and office of the President of the United States.

C

captions

ABRAHAM LINCOLN: THE GREAT EMANCIPATOR

Learn about Lincoln's childhood in Kentucky, his election as the nation's 16th President, and his outspoken views against slavery.

C

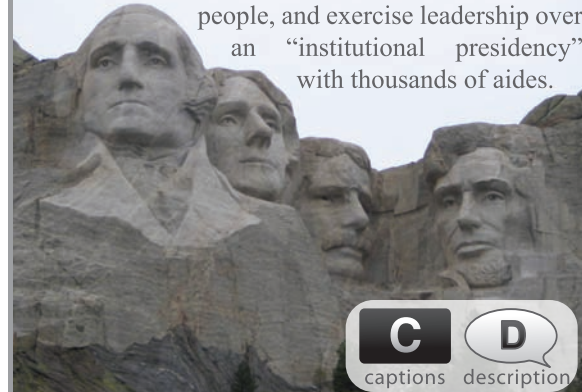

captions

D

description

THE MODERN PRESIDENCY: TOOLS OF POWER

The American presidency has been transformed since the 1930s. Today, presidents are active in the legislative process, use the media to appeal to the people, and exercise leadership over an "institutional presidency" with thousands of aides.

C

captions

D

description

DESCRIBED AND CAPTIONED MEDIA PROGRAM

FREE-LOAN ACCESSIBLE EDUCATIONAL MEDIA

▶ dcmp.org

#147 • February 2010

The DCMP is funded by the U.S. Department of Education and administered by the National Association of the Deaf.

CONNECT

Twitter
dcmp_tweets

Facebook
the.dcmp

YouTube
dcmpnad

This page is intentionally blank.

Actually, it's not really blank. This page allows us to quickly and easily provide alternative accessible content to screen-reader users and provides for more accurate indexing of the primarily graphical content by search engines.

Please be sure to only print page 1, unless you enjoy reading this notice again.