EVERY TEEN HAS CHALLENGES

FIVE STAR EDUCATIONAL, 2003
GRADE LEVEL: 8-12
85 MINUTES
1 INSTRUCTIONAL GRAPHIC INCLUDED

DESCRIPTION

Teenagers discuss the challenges they face and how they deal with them. Issues cover anorexia, divorce, learning disabilities, illnesses, prejudice, drugs, grades, teen parenting, self-esteem, and trust. Other topics addressed include: suicide, the importance of friends and family, and counseling. They also examine how the challenges they have encountered have impacted their lives and will affect their futures.

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

Subject Area: Health

• Standard: Knows how to maintain mental and emotional health.
  ▪ Benchmark: Knows strategies to manage stress and feelings caused by disappointment, separation, or loss (e.g., talking over problems with others, understanding that feelings of isolation and depression will pass, examining the situation leading to the feelings). (See INSTRUCTIONAL GOALS 3.)
  ▪ Benchmark: Understands how one responds to the behavior of others and how one's behavior may evoke responses in others. (See INSTRUCTIONAL GOALS 2.)
  ▪ Benchmark: Knows skills used to communicate effectively with family, friend, and others, and the effects of open and honest communication. (See INSTRUCTIONAL GOALS 1.)
  ▪ Benchmark: Knows strategies for resisting negative peer pressure. (See INSTRUCTIONAL GOALS 3.)
  ▪ Benchmark: Knows characteristics and conditions associated with positive self-esteem. (See INSTRUCTIONAL GOALS 4.)

INSTRUCTIONAL GOALS

1. To show ways to communicate thoughts and feelings effectively.
2. To analyze why people behave the way they do.
3. To suggest strategies to use for dealing with stress and negative feelings.
4. To explain the importance of thinking positively.
BEFORE SHOWING

1. Use the word “challenge” in different contexts:
   a. My brother challenged me to a game of chess.
   b. That algebra test was a challenge.
   c. The security guard challenged the man who entered the side door.
   d. The students challenged the new rule.
2. Discuss some common challenges of teenagers in today’s society.
   a. Challenges that your friends have.
   b. Challenges that your brothers or sisters have.
   c. Challenges that you have.
3. Assign each student a character in the video to take notes on.
   a. Write each character’s code name on a strip of paper and draw lots.
   b. Complete a chart summarizing the comments of the assigned character.
      (See INSTRUCTIONAL GRAPHIC.)

DURING SHOWING

1. View the media more than once, with one showing uninterrupted.
2. Pause after each of the following sections and allow the students to write comments in their charts:
   b. “Can you tell us more about your challenge?”
   c. “How did your challenge affect you?”
   d. “Have you ever wanted to hide your challenge?”
   e. “Do you ever think you have a harder life than other teenagers do?”
   f. “Looking at challenge differently.”
   g. “Staying busy.”
   h. “Talking with friends and family.”
   i. “Have your challenges helped you?”
   j. “What advice would you give to other teenagers?”
AFTER SHOWING

Discussion Items and Questions

1. Discuss the importance of being able to speak freely about feelings of depression and frustration.
2. Discuss the comments of each character by referring to the summaries written in the tables on the provided worksheet.
3. What three strategies does the video suggest to help deal with a challenge?
4. In what ways can a challenge help improve a person?
5. If you were a counselor, how would you counsel your assigned character? What advice would you give him or her?
6. Discuss the importance of body language and expression when communicating.
   a. Which of the characters seemed to be the most confident?
   b. Which of the characters seemed to be the most nervous?
   c. Which of the characters seemed to be the saddest?

Applications and Activities

1. Interview grandparents, parents, teachers, and siblings about challenges they faced growing up. Report on the findings and compare.
2. Research quotes about challenges:
   a. “When you’ve got something to prove, there is nothing greater than a challenge.”
   b. “We only think when we are confronted with problems.”
   c. “Life’s problems are not supposed to paralyze you; they’re supposed to help you discover who you are.”
   d. “Never underestimate your problem or your ability to deal with it.”
